Interests

Generative AI, Critical Thinking, and AI Literacy in Professional Learning:

- AI literacy: functional, ethical, rhetorical, and pedagogical dimensions; instrument development and validation
- Critical thinking: Community of Inquiry, Practical Inquiry, human–AI collaboration in higher education and K–12 STEM
- Training and development: AI-enhanced professional learning, microlearning, synthetic presenters, asynchronous online design
- Equity and multilingual education: bilingual and multicultural learners, ESL inclusion, culturally grounded AI integration

Related Projects:

- GenAI Literacy for Language Teachers (dissertation) and the Teachers in the Loop Training Series
- FERPAI: The Functional, Ethical, Rhetorical, and Pedagogical AI Literacy Scale for Educators
- IGNITE-STEM: AI, Critical Thinking, and Community Co-Design in K–12 STEM (NSF FINDERS Foundry)
- Generative AI and Critical Thinking in Higher Education
- Social Network Analysis of Online Learning Communities

Education

Northern Arizona University

Ph.D., Curriculum and Instruction, Educational Technology Focus (GPA 4.0) Expected May 2027

- Dissertation: GenAI Literacy for Language Teachers for a More Responsible and Effective Use of the Technology: Testing, Experiences, and Reflections
- Coursework emphasis: instructional design, AI in education, educational technology, bilingual education, and advanced research methodology
- Committee: Chih-Hsiung Tu (Co-Chair), Laura Sujo-Montes (Co-Chair), Vicki Ross, Cathryn Shelton, Cherng-Jyh Yen

Zagazig University, Egypt

Preliminary Ph.D. Year, Curriculum and Instruction (GPA 4.0) 2018
M.A., Curriculum and EFL Instruction (GPA 4.0) 2017

- Thesis: An enrichment program based on process drama and literature circles to develop the Faculty of Education EFL prospective teachers' communicative competence and autonomy

Preliminary M.A. Year, Curriculum and Instruction (GPA 4.0) 2015
Special Diploma, Curriculum and Instruction (GPA 4.0) 2014
Professional Diploma, Curriculum and Instruction (GPA 4.0) 2013
B.A., English Language, Faculty of Education (GPA 3.9) 2012

Awards

AECT Foundation Award for Graduate Student Professional Development 2026
AECT, Learner Engagement Division Chicago IL

Best Proposal with a Graduate Student as First Author 2026
American Educational Research Association (AERA), Instructional Technology SIG Los Angeles CA

Outstanding Doctoral Student, Curriculum and Instruction 2025
Northern Arizona University, College of Education Flagstaff AZ

Student Keynote Speaker, 2024 Internationally Connected Faculty Reception (September 24) 2024
Northern Arizona University, invited by the Vice Provost for Global Affairs Flagstaff AZ

International Excellence Award (Ph.D. Tuition Scholarship) 2021–2025
Northern Arizona University Flagstaff AZ

National Doctoral Scholarship (fully funded; one of the top two candidates nationally) 2019
Egyptian Ministry of Higher Education Egypt

Certificate of Honor, Best Master's Thesis in EFL Instruction 2017
Zagazig University, Faculty of Education Zagazig, Egypt

Certificate of Honor, Top Student in Each Undergraduate Year 2009–2012

PENDING SPONSORED RESEARCH (NSF): $614,424 across two proposals, including $300,000 as Co-PI

Sponsored Research: Current

NSF FINDERS Foundry Planning Grant (Award #2627892): $49,613 08/2026–12/2026
NSF FF: Planning: Intergenerational, Grounded, and Networked Innovation for Technology Education in STEM (IGNITE-STEM)
National Science Foundation; PI: Anne K. Hamlin; Co-PI: Sean M. Ryan; Northern Arizona University Flagstaff AZ

- Role: Senior Personnel, Project Technologist (0.2 person-months).
- Objective: Co-design a community-celebratory STEM and AI engagement model, grounded in a situated engagement approach and requested directly by educators and families in Tuba City Unified School District on the Navajo Nation.

- Contributions: Integrated generative AI literacy and critical AI evaluation into community-engaged STEM education; designed and facilitated the AI for STEM Education workshop in the IGNITE-STEM Co-Design Series, Tuba City, AZ.

Sponsored Research: Pending

NSF FINDERS Foundry Development Grant: $300,000 06/2027–05/2028
NSF FF: Development: Intergenerational, Grounded, and Networked Innovation for Technology Education in STEM (IGNITE-STEM)
National Science Foundation (NSF 26-507); Northern Arizona University Flagstaff AZ

- Role: Co-Principal Investigator (3 person-months per year, 2027–2028).
- Objective: Provide STEM and AI learning for students, celebrate that learning with the community, and study how it builds student and community support for STEM learning.

AI-Enhanced Professional Learning for Informal STEM Education: $314,424 (NAU subaward) 03/2027–02/2030
National Science Foundation, STEM K–12 Program (NSF 25-545); subaward from Magnolia Consulting Flagstaff AZ

- Role: Artificial Intelligence Technologist (0.5 person-months per year, 2027–2029).
- Objective: Use design-based implementation research and a multi-site comparative study to co-design, evaluate, and disseminate an AI-enhanced professional learning framework for out-of-school-time STEM educators.

Teaching

Courses Taught

Northern Arizona University, Department of Teaching and Learning (2022–present)

Contemporary Developments (Generative AI), ETC 599 (Master's, online, 2x) 2024–2026

- Four modules mirror my AI literacy framework: (1) functional GenAI literacy; (2) ethical and rhetorical literacy through critical thinking and prompt engineering; (3) pedagogical literacy grounded in evidence-based learning theories; (4) teaching, assessment, and lifelong learning in GenAI-enhanced classrooms.
- Students build a GenAI portfolio, develop ethical-use frameworks for their own fields, and design a human-centered GenAI learning system as the culminating project.

Technology Planning & Professional Development, ETC 635 (Master's, online, 1x) 2025

- Students carry one GenAI-enhanced course through the full design cycle: ideation and an instructional design proposal, course outline and design layouts, content development, finalization, presentation, and peer review.
- A shared Resource Hub supports collaborative learning and project exchange; the ETC program portfolio serves as the signature assignment.

Structured English Immersion, BME 631 (Graduate, online, 2x) 2023–2025

- Course topics include language development, sheltered instruction, and assessment for English learners in K–12 classrooms.

Foundations of Multicultural Education, BME 210 (Undergraduate, hybrid, 2x) 2025–2026

- Course topics include identity (including our identities as designers), intersectionality, cultural and economic power, labeling by country of origin, and belonging in institutions; students learn to design for all rather than one size for all.
- Student Opinion Survey, Spring 2025 (10 responses): every respondent agreed or strongly agreed on all seven items; instructor items averaged 3.8 of 4.

Evidence-Based Practices in Elementary School, ECI 407 (Undergraduate, in-person, 1x) 2025

- Elementary social studies methods: standards-based lesson design from goals and objectives to hooks, differentiation strategies, procedures, questioning, assessment, and closure.

Supervised Practicum & Field Experience, ECI 308/408 (Undergraduate, 5x) 2023–2026

- Supervise and coach preservice teachers in K–8 placements through classroom observation, lesson-plan review, and post-observation feedback.

Zagazig University, Department of Curriculum and Instruction, Egypt (2013–2021)

Teacher Preparation and EFL Courses (Undergraduate and postgraduate, in-person) 2013–2021

- Taught Teaching Methods, Microteaching, Conversation, Reading, Listening, Contrastive Analysis, Discourse Analysis, and Technology in Education.

- Supervised elementary and secondary preservice teachers during their teaching practicum.

Course Design

Generative Artificial Intelligence and Data Analysis (Graduate, online)
- Designed a new online course for Northern Arizona University's Educational Technology (ETC) program.

ETC 599 and ETC 635 Course Redesigns (Master's, online) 2024–2026
- Designed the module sequences, assignments, and discussions for both courses around GenAI literacy, ethical and responsible use, quality assurance, and instructional design foundations.

Professional Experience

Part-Time Faculty and Graduate Teaching Assistant 2022–present
Northern Arizona University, Department of Teaching and Learning Flagstaff AZ

- Teach and co-teach undergraduate and graduate courses in educational technology, AI in education, ESL/structured English immersion, and multicultural education
- Supervise preservice teachers in K–8 field placements

Project Technologist, IGNITE-STEM (NSF FINDERS Foundry Planning Grant); Co-PI, Development Proposal (pending) 2026–present
Northern Arizona University Flagstaff AZ

- Support the integration of generative AI literacy and critical AI evaluation into a community co-designed STEM education project with Tuba City Unified School District

Graduate Research Assistant and Ph.D. Program Coordinator Assistant 2022–2025
Northern Arizona University, College of Education Flagstaff AZ

- Supported doctoral program administration, student communications, and academic progress tracking

Assistant Lecturer 2017–2021
Zagazig University, Department of Curriculum and Instruction Zagazig, Egypt

- Egyptian academic rank broadly equivalent to a U.S. instructor on the faculty track
- Taught undergraduate and postgraduate teacher-preparation and EFL courses; supervised practicum

Teaching Assistant 2013–2017
Zagazig University, Department of Curriculum and Instruction Zagazig, Egypt

- Taught Conversation, Microteaching, and Reading; supervised preservice teachers

Instructor of English and English–Arabic Translator (self-employed) 2011–2013
